defeated John Reynolds by a 9-1 margin.

The three congressmen seeking renomination — Republican Wendell Wyatt, who was unopposed; Al Ullman, and Edith Green, both Democrats — won their elections without difficulty.

In the 4th District, which Duncan represented for two terms, former Rep. Charles Porter, a Democrat, led Dist. Atty. William Frye of Lane County. The war in Viet Nam also was a prime issue in their campaign.

Frye supported Johnson and Porter opposed his policies. John Dellenback won the Republican nomination in the 4th District. Morgan, 52, former state Democratic chairman and member of the Federal Power Commission for two years, had called U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia a tragic mistake. But Duncan said that communism must be contained and that Southeast Asia was the place to do it.

Duncan and Hatfield will campaign for the Senate berth now held by Maurice Neuberger, a Democrat, who did not seek re-election.

Kirk, a Jacksonville businessman, won the GOP nomination in the first primary three weeks ago. No Republican has been elected Florida governor in modern times.

In Tallahassee High would work with a legislature that under court-ordered reapportionment is for the first time controlled by Florida's mushrooming urban areas.

High, 42, born a carpenter's son in the hills of Tennessee, said he would represent every county of Florida equally and would try to put out for good the old fires of north-south sectionalism.

Exhausted by the fury of the emotional campaign, but bursting with elation, High promised in a victory statement that his election would mean "a new beginning for all of us who live in Florida."

Early in the evening Burns, his voice shaking, conceded defeat. It marked the culmination, he said, of 17 years of public service, including 15 years as mayor of Jacksonville and the two years he will have served as governor.

Burns refused to answer when newsmen asked if he would support High in the general election.

In representative Negro-dominated precincts throughout the state, High walked off with an average of 82 per cent of the vote.

On the basis of this sampling, if half of the registered Negroes voted, High would have collected $3,000 votes — almost precisely his margin of victory.

failed to dislodge the outnumbered defenders.

While fighting remained at a low level generally, the U.S. Command disclosed a new sweep operation by the U.S. 179th Airborne Division and the Royal Australian Regiment in the jungles 40 miles southeast of Saigon. So far, 20 Viet Cong have been killed in the nine-day operation.

American forces reported killing 29 Viet Cong in two other continuing operations.

U.S. jets flew 24 missions against North Viet Nam, including an attack on the Red River Valley rail line to Red China.

The number of missions was again far below the average before the monsoon rains curbed the air war against the North.

The U.S. military command had ordered all Americans off Saigon's streets this afternoon in anticipation of trouble during the scheduled march from the Buddhist Institute, focal point of past disorders.

Some 2,000 Buddhist followers tried to crash through the barbed wire around the institute.

FBI Charges 16 With Sending Gaming Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents arrested 16 men and sought four more today in a nationwide crackdown on interstate telephone transmission of gambling information.

Director J. Edgar Hoover said the men, seized in nine states from coast to coast, used an electronic device known as a "blue box" to avoid billing for long-distance telephone calls.

They thus avoided one of the check points of law enforcement officers checking on gambling — extensive long-distance telephone bills.

FBI complaints charged the men with violating federal laws against interstate transmission of wagering information and fraud by wire.

Hoover said an "extensive and detailed investigation by FBI agents throughout the United States" led to the arrests in New York, Maryland, Georgia, Tennessee, North Carolina, Florida, Texas, California and New Jersey.

Suspects Named

Hoover said the following individuals were charged with interstate transmission of wagering information, which carries a maximum penalty of two years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine:

Gilbert Lee Beckley, 53, of Bay Harbor Islands, Fla., described by the FBI as "one of the major bookmakers in the United States." He was arrested in New York City.

Thomas Walton Boyd, 36, of Nashville, Tenn.

Herbert Kaufman, 55, of Baltimore, Md., a real estate agent.

John Owen Tyler, 50, of Conyers, Ga.

Henry Edward Loman, 50, of Greensboro, N.C.

Samuel Green, 52, of Dade County, Fla., president of U.S. Virgil Salathiel, 48, of (505) Multiple Sports News Service, Miami.

Others Named

Hoover said the following were charged with violating the fraud-by-wire laws which carry maximum sentences of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine:

Hoare, 29, English journalist, left Virginia Beach Saturday in an attempt to row the 3,000 miles to their homeland in 50 days.

Monday night, however, a merchant ship reported them 22 miles off Virginia Beach. Tuesday afternoon a Navy plane pilot spotted them 12 miles offshore.

even land to be used as the site of housing, Saba warned.

"While the objective of open occupancy is praiseworthy, this proposed means of accomplishing it is 100 per cent wrong, since true and lasting acceptance of neighbors by neighbors can be accomplished only by understanding and education fostered voluntarily by churches, schools, and all men of good will. It cannot be achieved by the federal government with its vast power wiping out freedom of choice and a contract for all citizens under the guise of providing a new right for minority groups."

"The citizens feel strongly about this human right of real property ownership, and in every instance where they have had an opportunity to express their views at the polls they have decisively exhibited their attitude. In every referendum on the subject, forced housing has been overwhelmingly rejected."

"Voluntary efforts to provide equal opportunity in housing are under way quietly in many communities, and one indication of the success of this desirable approach was reflected in the recent report of the California Real Estate Association that a vast supply of desirable houses for sale is available to Negroes and other minorities who have the financial ability to buy them."

More than 99 per cent of the 286,406 listings in the multiple listing services of 170 real estate boards in that state for the first 11 months of 1965 contained no racial restrictions, the California survey showed.

Besides appealing to Senators Tower and Yarborough and Rep. Brooks to help defeat the federal forced housing proposal, Saba urged home and property owners to express their opinions to the lawmakers also.

but were driven off by a police tear gas barrage.

Saigon's Mayor Van Van Cua banned the demonstration and ordered his police to pick up any monks on the streets for identification at city hall. Leaders of the Buddhist Institute agreed to this procedure, saying they had authorized no demonstrations today.

As monsoon rains drenched Saigon's streets this afternoon, Khaki-clad police broke up the crowds of monks youth groups, students and frolicking youngsters at the central market, the U.S. Joint Public Affairs office said.

Hollomon Gets 4-Year Scholarship

Special to The News

NIDELAND, May 25—Michael Gus Hollomon, who will graduate from Port Neches-Groves high school in June, has been awarded a four-year Union Oil company of California Foundation National Merit scholarship, it was announced today by Arthur C. Stewart, president of the foundation.

Michael plans to enter Lamar Tech this fall and to take a pre-medical course.

The Presentation

The award will be presented to Michael on behalf of the Union Oil foundation by W. S. McConnor, vice president, Refining, Pure Oil company, at a luncheon Thursday at the Tideland Motor inn. Pure Oil became a division of Union Oil company in July, 1965, when the companies were merged.

Among the guests will be the honoree's parents, Mr and Mrs Leon H. Hollomon; B. E. McCollum, superintendent, Port Neches school district. Oliver P. Monk and Dana M. Randon, principal and counselor—respectively — of Port Neches-Groves high school; Dr. Edwin S. Hayes, Lamar Tech; T. J. Sasser, Jr. mayor of Port Neches; Frank N. Duncan, Jr., welding shop foreman, and Mrs. Duncan; C. W. Cooper, manager of the Pure Oil company's Smith's Bluff refinery, and Mrs. Cooper, and Patricia Adams.

Keen Competition

Competition for Merit scholarships was exceptionally keen this year. A record 807,000 students from 17,162 high schools were tested by the organization. Michael's scholarship award was based on tests results, plus his high school grades and such other qualifications as leadership, citizenship, and extra-curricular activities.

At Port Neches-Groves, Michael has been an officer of the Student Council, president of the Speech club, a member of the Junior Red Cross.

His father is a welder at Pure's Smiths Bluff refinery. The Hollomons live at 1310 Dreddy in Port Neches.

Annual Custom

The Union Oil Company of California foundation is a non-profit organization devoted to the support of charitable, scientific, educational, and cultural pursuits. As part of its program for aiding institutions of higher education, the foundation offers four scholarships each year to sons and daughters of Union Oil and Pure Oil employees, dealers, consignees, and distributors.

Selection of candidates is made by the National Merit Scholarship corporation.

Sex Obsession Sign of Decay, Says Evangelist

LONDON (AP) — American

evangelist Billy Graham accused Britain and the United States today of being obsessed with sex.

"To read the papers and magazines you would think that we were almost worshipping the female bosom," he told a news conference.

"It has always been the mark of decaying civilizations to become obsessed with sex."

"When people lose their way, their purpose, their will and their goals, as well as their faith, like the ancient Israelites they go a-whoring."

"It is a form of diversion that requires no thought, no character and no restraint. The sex gullet is tormented by feelings of guilt and remorse."

Graham arrived Tuesday for his second crusade in Britain. A crowd of 2,000 turned out to greet his train.

"Illegitimate births are at an all-time high in America," he said. "Venereal disease rages at epidemic proportions throughout much of America and all this in face of the latest in contraceptives and antibiotics."

"The danger signals in both America and Britain are flying. We are well on the route to decadence. Another few years in the direction we are going and we will have it."

E. J. Smith's Rites Thursday

HARTBURG, May 25—Funeral services for Ernest J. Smith, of Route 2, Box 414, Orange, will be conducted Thursday at 10 a.m. in Claybar Funeral chapel.

Officiating will be the Rev. H. W. Bullock, pastor of the Hartburg Baptist church. Burial will be at King's cemetery at Hartburg.

Mr. Smith died Monday at approximately 8 p.m. after accidentally shooting himself. According to police reports, he reached for a shotgun and it accidentally discharged. His grandson discovered him Tuesday night.

Survivors include one son, E. J. Smith, Jr.; and one daughter, Mrs. Mallard P. Lavine, both of Hartburg, one brother, George Smith of Spurger; one sister, Mrs. Bonnie Dalton of Vidon; 12 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Abductor of Boy Is Slain by Posse

hijack and ran. But then he went man grabbed a school-bound boy from a bus stop today after other children had eluded him, he held the child for about three hours and then was killed by a posse of officers.

While encircled in a wooded area, the man wounded a policeman.

He was finally shot several times after surrendering the boy in a swap for a quart of water.

The youngster, Michael Albee, 6, apparently suffered no ill effects from his ordeal.

His father, Donald Albee, said the brown-haired first-grader was not crying when set free. An hour later, he was at the family's home in nearby Terryville, chewing bubblegum and playing with his baseball cards.

Apparently Deranged Police said the abductor, Albert Bunn, 33, a water company employee, was apparently deranged.

Michael's mother said her son was snatched up by Bunn as he waited with other children for the school bus, seven doors from the Albee home.

"He tried to pick up two girls first," she said, "but they saw off May 11, but has been postponed three times by mechanical difficulties and once because of a conflict with another satellite launch.

The space agency today also plans to roll the first version of a 36-story Saturn 5 moon rocket to the launch pad. The event occurs on the fifth anniversary of the day the late President John F. Kennedy set the goal to land U.S. astronauts on the moon by 1970.

This first Saturn 5 will nevertheless, however its job is to check out equipment and help launch crews work out procedures so they are ready when flight-ready moon rockets begin arriving later this year.

During the next seven days, five rockets are scheduled to carry payloads into space from Cape Kennedy—including the Gemini 9 astronauts and their rendezvous-in-space target satellite next Tuesday.

In addition to the Explorer launching, a Surveyor craft is on the line for a Monday liftoff toward a soft landing on the moon. An Orbiting Geophysical Observatory is tentatively scheduled for launching Tuesday night—the same day as Gemini 9.

One House member said adoption of the new criteria means that many, and in some cases most, of the recreation spots within a reservoir area may be used without payment of any fee.

The new criteria specify that fees are to be charged at such recreation spots where federal expenditures of at least $25,000

State police and officers from several town and city departments arrived soon after. They knew Bunn was the man they were after, they said, because his auto license number had been taken.

Police, using a powered megaphone, kept urging the man to come out and give himself up or set the boy free.

Bunn answered numerous times, refusing to give up. But finally, Albee said, he called out "You bring me up a quart of water and I'll give you the boy."

Boy's Shouts Heard The boy also had been shouting to the posse.

"I can't come out!" he cried. "I'll be shot!"

Wilfred Morin, known to Bunn, was chosen to be the intermediary in the swap.

"Willie, you come up alone," Bunn called.

Morin started up into the woods, carrying the water and calling to Bunn to reveal where he was.

A short time later, Morin and the youngster came back out. Albee said he and the youngster had been reunited only a few moments when he heard a shot and then a police officer's shout: "All right! Close in!"

Moments later, he said, there were several more shots. Then silence.
